

Waveland to approve $5.4 million budget this afternoon

BY JACQUI COCHRAN
The Waveland Board of Aldermen will meet at 5 p.m. today in the city tax office to review and vote on the proposed $5.4 million 1992 budget.

The budget is broken down into eight funds.

The general fund totals $2,605,500. The police department ($689,550), fire department ($434,400) and building inspector's department ($25,200) encompassed the largest expenditures at 44 percent of the $2.6 million general fund.

Still within the general fund, street maintenance and garbage pickup claims 28 percent; general government follows at 25 percent, leaving the animal shelter with two percent and parade and parkway maintenance with a minuscule five-hundredth of a percent.

The other seven funds include: water and gas ($1,875,118); the city bond and interest fund ($293,651); the sewer department ($233,565); the state loan retirement fund ($189,299); the recreation fund ($138,350); the short-term loan fund ($74,254); and the library fund ($7,950).

Supervisors set 1991 county millage

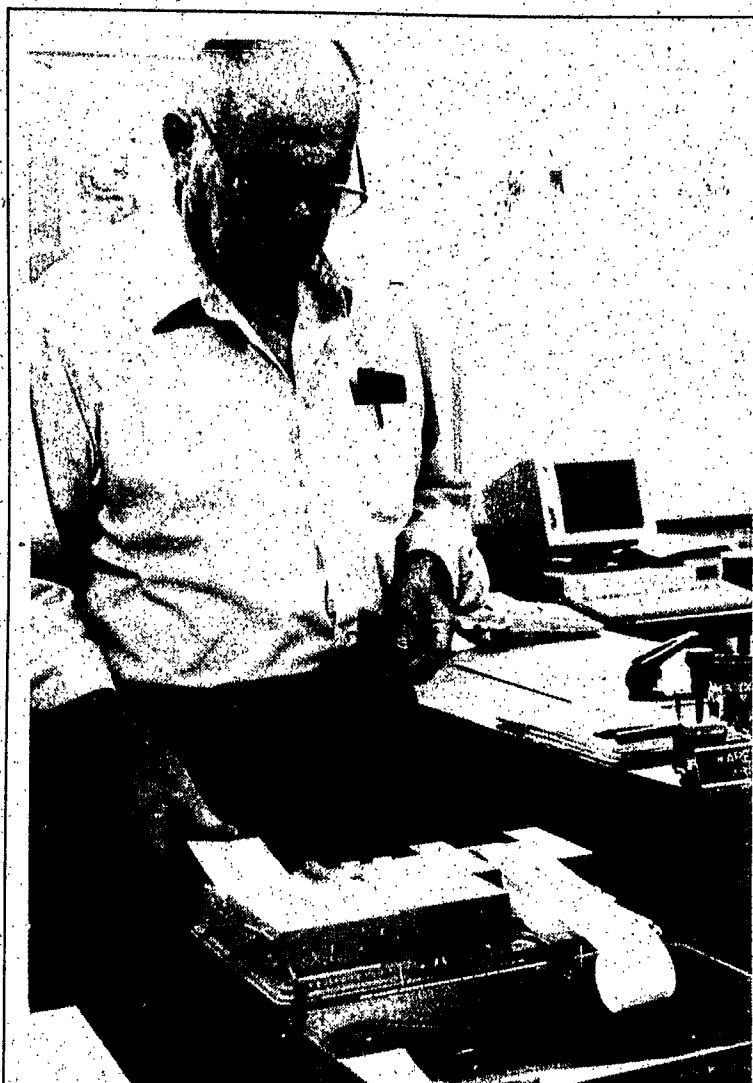

BY TRACI BONNEY

The county supervisors followed the tone set by other local governing agencies by not raising taxes for fiscal year 1991.

The board of supervisors set its millage Friday for the upcoming year at 49.25, equal to last year's millage. However, projected revenues from the millage are $6,336,000, which is $445,500 more than last year's figure.

Other business conducted at the short recess meeting Friday included hearing reports from Tax Assessor/Collector Edward D. Murtagh Jr., Port and Harbor Director Harold "Buz" Olsen, Chancery Clerk Mike Necaise, board attorney Gerald Gex and Road Superintendent Sam Cuevas; approving commissioners' checks and the September 1-15 payroll; and approving a county school district request for a $168,141 shortfall loan.

The board recessed to 10 a.m. Monday, Sept. 16 to open bids.

Program testing

Charlie Gottschalk checks the programs for the vote-counting machines Saturday morning in preparation for Tuesday's primary elections. Gottschalk said he had to write a separate program for each of the county's 28 precincts, and check each one. (Echo staff photo by Traci Bonney)

Redistricting adds two new precincts

BY ELLIS CUEVAS

Two new voting precincts have been added for Tuesday's primary elections in Hancock County, in addition to three being moved to new locations.

Jimmie Ladner, chairman of the Hancock County Election Commission, said, "The new precincts are Diamondhead West (District Five), which will vote at the Diamondhead Community Center, and Hancock North Central (District Five), which will vote at the Hancock North Central Elementary School on Highway 603 North."

The two new precincts, as well as the relocation of three, have been approved by the United States Justice Department, Ladner emphasized.

Diamondhead East (District Three), will now vote at the Fire Station on Kalani Drive, Ladner said, because the old voting location is now in District Five.

Waveland East precinct will vote at the Waveland Library, next door to its former location, because of renovations of the Waveland Civic Center. This precinct will revert in future elections when the building project is complete.

The voters of West Shoreline Park precinct will now vote at the new Community Center on the Kiln-Waveland Cutoff

Road. This precinct change was necessary due to flooding and

United Way supports many local agencies

BY ELLIS CUEVAS

The United Way of Hancock County supports some 23 agencies dealing with residents of all ages.

A goal of $140,000 has been set for the 1991 campaign with Michael Haas Jr., campaign chairman.

The campaign's kickoff will be held Friday at the Diamondhead Country Club with a Dutch treat breakfast at 7:30 a.m. Archie Manning will be the featured speaker.

The campaign is made possible by local volunteers, who donate their time to help raise the funds necessary to fund the many agencies.

The member agencies of the United Way for the 1991 campaign scheduled to receive funds for the fiscal year of 1992, and some of their services, are:

—American Red Cross, Gulf Coast Chapter - Emergency disaster relief, swimming, water safety, first aid programs, blood donor assistance, service to military families.

—Catholic Social and Community Services, Inc. - Provides counseling, support groups, family education, adoption services, crisis pregnancy care, teen issues education, emergency assistance, senior services, refuge and immigration service, and community advocacy.

—Epilepsy Foundation of Mississippi - Provides direct and instructional assistance to individuals and families affected by epilepsy in Mississippi.

—Goodwill Industries of South Mississippi, Inc. - Provides jobs and training to people with disabilities through its Used Goods Program and various contracts including Keesler Air Force Base.

—Gulf Coast Mental Health Center - Provides wide range of mental health, mental retardation, and substance abuse services in Hancock, Harrison, Pearl River and Stone counties.

—Gulf Coast Women's Center - Provides emergency shelter and all related services to victims of domestic violence and their children, and provides advocacy, counseling and other services to victims of sexual assault.

—Gulf Pines Girl Scout Council - Offering all girls from South Mississippi a chance to develop their potential mentally, physically and emotionally, so they can be a vital part of communities now and as adults.

Waveland man sets fire to home

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

Alvin Gillum of Waveland was arrested Thursday morning after confessing setting fire to his home.

Waveland Police Department Investigator James Varnell reported, "Officer James Goss was leaving the Waveland Police Station when Gillum walked up to him and said he had just burned his house down."

"The Waveland Fire Department was called at 10:40 a.m. and sent to Gillum's Morris Street home."

"Investigator David Stepro was dispatched to meet the firefighters at the house."

Waveland Fire Chief David Garcia stated, "Two pumpers and five personnel arrived at the house and saw smoke escaping from the east bedroom window."

"Upon entry, a lot of heat and smoke were found, but no fire. It appeared that the fire had gone out on its own."

Garcia added that the firefighters brought in an exhaust fan and ventilated the house within five minutes.

Stepro took a statement from Gillum. Varnell added, in which he admitted to pouring gasoline on the floors of the house and then setting it on fire.

Hancock County Fire Marshall Jay Marsh said the County office was called in upon reporting of the incident.

"I documented the scene and let the Waveland Police Department handle the statements from Gillum."

"The Waveland Police and Fire departments should be commended for their accurate and efficient handling of the situation."

Marsh stated that the county fire marshal's office is prosecuting Gillum for arson.

Gillum is presently incarcerated in the Hancock County Justice Facility on a $10,000 bond, Varnell concluded.

HMC offers community educational programs

BY ELLIS CUEVAS

In an effort to better serve Hancock County's residents, Hancock Medical Center (HMC) offers a wide variety of community educational programs.

During the week of September 23, three programs of interest will be offered free to the public.

On Tuesday, Sept. 24 at 5:30 p.m., HMC will present an "Assault/Rape Prevention, Survival Seminar" to be conducted by U.S. Marshal Richard McKay.

Thursday, Sept. 26, 7 p.m., the program is entitled "Con Games - On The Lookout for the Elderly," and it will be presented by Don Oeso, Bay Police Department's public relations officer.

The third program that week is scheduled for Friday, Sept. 27, 10 a.m. and is entitled "Living with Chronic Obstructive Pulmonary Disease," Terry Coleman, HMC cardiopulmonary director, will conduct the seminar.

"The assault/rape prevention program is geared for women of all ages and will include topics such as becoming aware of basic defense techniques, locating vital strike areas, possible side effects on victims and how to avoid set ups," Janet Barnett, community resources coordinator said.

Barnett continued, "The victims of many crimes leave themselves open by not paying any attention to their surroundings, and not knowing how to avoid certain situations."

This is a new program being offered by the U.S. Justice Department and HMC is the first to offer it as a public service in Hancock County. McKay is headquartered in Biloxi.

Con games are not new to Hancock residents, as they are a constant fear, especially among the elderly.

"New techniques have to be developed constantly to avoid the con games and Officer Oeso is Organizational meeting of Gamblers Anonymous Wed.

An organizational meeting of a Gamblers Anonymous chapter for Hancock County is planned Wednesday at 7:30 p.m.

Gamblers Anonymous is a fellowship of men and women who share their experience, strength and hope with each other that they may solve their common problem and help others who desire to stop gambling.

There are no dues or fees and the organization is not affiliated with any denomination, sect, politics or institution.

Those desiring more information may telephone 255-3413 or 1-504-836-4543.

Chamber 'after hours' to be held Monday

The Hancock Chamber of Commerce will be hosting a Business After Hours on Monday, Sept. 15 from 5-7 p.m. at the Waveland Resort Inn.

Business After Hours offers Chamber members a unique opportunity to meet, talk and exchange business cards with other Chamber members and prospective members. Business After Hours is held at a time of day that offers almost everyone an opportunity to participate. The Waveland Resort Inn is providing hors d'oeuvres and happy hour prices on beverages.

The admission will be one business card, but everyone is encouraged to bring more to exchange with business contacts. A door prize will be given away, and chances will be available on a 50/50 cash drawing.

All Chamber members and local business leaders are encouraged to attend as this enjoyable event will hopefully become a regular occasion to get together and encourage the growth of business in our area.

Reflections

On Life

By Father Jerome
LeDoux, SVD

You're a mirror of heaven

Heaven is often far away from my mind, because many of the people whom I see and numerous things which I experience do not put me in mind of heaven at all. Rather, they tend to point to the negative and weigh heavily upon my spirit.

But when I look at you, my mind stirs with thoughts of heaven. You are one of those rare people who give me a glimpse of what paradise must surely be.

I do not want to see you disappear from the earth, because you are one of those extraordinary earthly treats which mirror heaven itself. Even with the billions of other people around, the earth would be a lonelier, sadder place without the pleasure of your face and the comfort of your company.

It is not merely or mainly a matter of your face, since there are innumerable beautiful faces, as the various beholders see them. "Just another pretty handsome face" does not fit you by any stretch of the imagination.

By the same token, yours is also not the case of "just another beautiful body." Consideration of your body is not at all primary, for countless attractive bodies grace our Planet Earth; yet, most of them do not draw my attention to heaven, except in a weak, indirect way.

But when I look at you, I see someone who transcends a pretty face or a beautiful body. You, dear one, would be a knockout in life without a great face or arresting body. You are simply you with your splendid character and personality.

Although your face and body do enhance the inner you, that real part of you comes through and rings true more in spite of than because of whatever your exterior has to offer.

My primary dreams in life do not concern how many material assets I can acquire and how I can use and enjoy them. Such dreams do sneak into everyone's consciousness, perhaps tied in with the so-called American Dream. That is not my fantasy.

Rather, I dream of how my mind, my heart, my emotions and my very soul can become so bonded to those of other people that we can share the greatest advantage all the wondrous gifts of our humanity. That means, of course, all the amazing blessings and talents which God has farmed out to us.

You, my dear one, epitomize all these precious gifts. Despite your imperfections and shortcomings, you are my dash and dose of heaven here on earth.

When most other reminders and motives fail, your very presence and bearing drive me on and motivate me toward a place and an eternity which lie securely beyond these fitful, frenzied, rapidly decaying climes and times.

You are my mirror of that fabled state/place and of that eternity of life and love for which we all long more than for anything else. With you to behold, to hear, to touch and to experience, I feel secure that God is leading me through you.

No spectacular view of nature, no imaginative and explosive work of art, no exquisite, rapturous composition and rendition of music mirrors heaven so intensely and so insistently as you do. Somehow, they pale before you.

I do hope and pray that you understand how much I want heaven to be about what you are and what you stand for.

Thank God for you, dear one. Thank God for all people like you, but, above all, thank God for you.

Fund-raiser features biking, walking to benefit Diamondhead Fitness Trail

Area residents are invited to join in biking, walking, jogging or sponsoring those who will, to finance the Diamondhead Fitness/Nature Trail.

The event will be Saturday, Sept. 21 (rain date Saturday, Oct. 5, 8 a. m. to noon, at the Diamondhead Baptist Church parking lot.

Those who enter, or those who raise $30, will receive a commemorative T-shirt. Sport watches will be awarded for raising $75.

Everyone joining in the fun will be identified as a "winner," said chairman, Eddie Fernandez. The highest donations in each category will be awarded special prizes.

"Come have fun with no time limits to help finance the Fitness/Nature Trail to be developed with 1/8 mile fitness trail with adjoining nature trail of one mile," said Fernandez.

"To make it a beautiful park, we will plant shrubs, trees and other plants native to the Coast. This will give Diamondhead a new ambience to be enjoyed by all for health and socializing.

"Contributions to date include a warm-up station with attending physical therapist two hours each morning, five days a week; a drinking fountain; lighting and park benches.

"Residents will have a lovely get-together spot. They can eat at the Country Club (location is in the Country Club complex) and then walk it off; warm up to play tennis, or after exercise in the summer take a dip in our lovely swimming pool, cool down," said Fernandez.

The seminar will include a film on such 'cons' as phony real estate deals, "you have won a prize," medical cures and the old pigeon drop.

Coleman will address the causes and their effects on individuals who are acceptable, and list some of the early signs and systems of pulmonary disease.

Treatments now available, how effective they are and how to cope with them will be included in this seminar.

The pulmonary disease seminar will be repeated several times within the next year because of the response already received.

Future programs in October, will be on such topics as, "Wills, Living Trusts and Probates," "Monsters in the Marriage," and "Healthy Cooking for the Holidays."

Tuesday is the time to vote

On Tuesday, the qualified electors of the Democratic and Republican Parties will go to the polls and elect their primary selections.

These are very important elections, so you need to make it a point to get out and vote.

In addition to that, you need to remind your friends and neighbors of the importance of voting.

Polls are open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.

"QUOTABLE QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

The Hancock County Food Pantry is now averaging some 12 to 13 families a day seeking assistance.

This is an increase, according to Mrs. Ina Piazza, who reports that the Food Pantry has had an increase of 1,268 families over the previous fiscal year.

The Food Pantry, as many of you know, is an agency of the United Way of Hancock County and also receives support from area churches and private donations.

Apparently the number of deserving persons in our county is growing, and this means the Food Pantry has to have more supplies to take care of the demand.

Those of us who may have little extra may want to consider making a food or cash donation to the Food Pantry.

The Food Pantry has no payroll, as all of the workers are volunteers, mostly from area churches.

The only expenses are for food items they purchase at reduced prices from several merchants.

The recent increase in numbers of deserving persons has really placed a drain on the organization's finances, and all help will be greatly appreciated.

Volunteer to save a child

This week undercover police officers in Houston, Texas, bought $20 worth of crack cocaine from a three-year-old child. The toddler was selling drugs for his mother and grandmother from the front porch of his home.

Across America, even on the quiet streets of small town Mississippi, we are in danger of losing an entire generation of children—an entire generation that will grow up to lead not productive, but destructive, lives.

We are losing these children because somewhere along the way we have forgotten to instill in them traditional family values. Words like honesty, industry, discipline, thrift, reward and initiative, representing values that helped build our nation and make us solid as a people, no longer mean the same thing to our children that they mean to us.

There are hundreds of business men and women across our state who operate their businesses, and their lives, according to these principles. While many take the time to volunteer to work with children in schools and churches, some do not.

One person can make an enormous difference. In today's society the family often fails. Fathers are absent and worthy roles models are nowhere to be found. Business men and women are well equipped to demonstrate the success that discipline and hard work can bring.

Volunteerism can be a potent weapon in the fight to train our children as productive members of society. All it takes is a little time to save a child.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Choose your next supervisor wisely

Dear Editor,

I read Lincoln Warren's letter to the editor (Aug. 22) three or four times. I agree with his statement about the ability of a county supervisor to touch our lives on a daily basis with their decisions more so than any other elected official.

Supervisors have so much power and responsibility. Should we delegate that power to just anyone?

The requirements for running for this office are very minimal. Basically, one is required to own land, reside in his district and be a registered voter. That's about as minimal as you can get, wouldn't you say?

We must remember that through the years the responsibilities of this office have increased substantially; therefore, as voters we must choose wisely.

Mr. Warren also stated in his letter that the supervisors deal with law enforcement, public welfare, taxation, fire protection, etc.

When we weigh these responsibilities against the basic requirements for this office we should feel compelled to vote into office the most qualified individual in our particular district.

Unfortunately we don't always have enough "qualified" candidates to choose from in each district. In my own district I have nine choices—too many? It does make me wonder when I read the varied backgrounds of these candidates just what they mean when they say "qualified and experienced."

Let's hope that enough voters will see the need and want the most reliable and qualified person.

Respectfully,
Sandra Gray

Interruption of life chain depletes the Bay of fish

To the Editor:

It's almost midnight on the Bay St. Louis Bridge... and except for my car, the bridge is empty. No cars, no people and, most depressing to me, no fishermen. The fishermen and the fish... are gone.

I returned here to Bay St. Louis because my wife and I love the "small town" atmosphere, the friendly people... and the fishing.

But upon our return, we discovered that things had changed. I read all the newspaper articles about the redfish disaster, the Japanese love of our mullet roe, the controversy surrounding the TEDs, the size limits on specks and reds, and proposals on gill nets and on and on and on.

I listened to the local fishermen explain away the lack of fish—the cold snap—too much fresh water—too many fishermen—too many boats—too little enforcement of the rules, etc., etc.

Well, I've been back in the Bay for a year now, and I'm not expert in the area of fisheries management, but I credit myself with having some common sense and folks, this is how it looks to me:

The overall problem of declining fish and shrimp population cannot be solved by tackling the "user" or "gather" end of the cycle. Sure, we can pass laws on size limits and overall number of boats allowed to shrimp, but that won't result in the repopulation of Sound and Bay waters unless we address the whole problem.

I believe we have disturbed/interrupted the primary food chain/web that the fish and shrimp population depend on for their existence. This complicated "web of life" is at the heart of the problem.

Walk down to the Bay—from Cedar Point to Bayou Caddy and tell me what you see—more to the point, what you don't see.

You don't see the silver flash of mullet in the sun, the vast schools of mullet wheeling and twining in the still waters with military precision. You don't see the schools of shad and other bait fish exploding into the humid air like living fountains.

You don't see the baby crabs near the shoreline scooting sideways as they search for an invisible tidbit to snack on. You don't see the schools of baby croaker who nibble on your toes if you stand still.

You don't see the numbers of fiddler crabs, hermit crabs, worm holes hiding the squishy invertebrates, clams and tens of other kinds of "minor" creatures which all contribute their voices to the sea's symphony of life.

And if you took a sample of the water itself, you would not see the numbers of tiny multicell and single-cell denizens that are the basic meal for all creatures that live in the waters we use.

Where have they gone? Why have they gone? Well, as an example, when you catch all the mullet in nets, their fecal pellets no longer provide food for the single-celled plants and animals, so they start to die out.

The chain has been interrupted—the small shrimp and fish don't have as much to eat—their numbers dwindle. The larger fish have less "small fry" to eat—their numbers dwindle.

Add "natural disasters" into the equation—too much fresh water, overfishing, polluted water, cold weather—and pretty soon you have empty bridges, and even worse, empty waters.

Schools of mullet, redfish, big fat speckled trout and the toothy schools of white trout quickly become just a memory in the mind's eye.

I don't know if we have broken the chain or just bent it out of shape, but the efforts of our management officials and "experts" better start focusing on the issues.

I applaud the officials who are addressing some of these issues and urge them to continue, to do more, to save the Bay. The need for fishermen and shrimpers to make a living is hard to ignore, but unless we turn from our present path—there will be no fish and no shrimp to harvest.

People can make a difference. I was overjoyed to see the Bay Middle School class become so upset over pollution in the ocean that they drew up a bill to tighten regulations.

I realize this town has a lot of other issues to cope with, but ladies and gentlemen, one of the major attractions of your city is disappearing—dying under your very eyes.

Don't let the logo "Spend a Day in the Bay" become "Spend a Day in the Dead Bay."
Terry L. Latham
Bay St. Louis.

FROM THE SENATE

By Senator Trent Lott

Flew the coup

There is an old proverb born of the Southern hills and hollows that reads, "Make haste slowly."

In deciding how to deal with the recent events in the Soviet Union—the coup, Gorbachev's loss of the nuclear "football," the downfall of the Communist Party, and the possible division of the USSR—this old saying is a good course of action to follow.

Some folks are saying that the bear is asleep forever and therefore we now should reduce defense spending beyond the 25 percent already cut and divert those funds to give humanitarian aid for the Soviets. These are the same cries we heard when the Berlin Wall fell and the liberals in Congress proclaimed the world "Utopia."

Since that time we've fought a war in the Middle East that could not have been waged without a strong, well-equipped military. And, Communist hardliners seized control of the USSR and its massive nuclear arsenal.

That coup failed, but already we are being warned by the Soviets themselves that another coup could be attempted. And, as the USSR crumbles into independent republics, who will control the military and nuclear capabilities is still a riddle.

Why should the U.S. Government invest billions of dollars in the Soviet economy when the Soviets themselves have not cut aid to Communist Cuba and their spending on ships, weapons, submarines and missiles in order to meet their own people's needs or rebuild their economy?

We should aid the Soviets by moving forward with agriculture credits so they can purchase products from American farmers. However, we should give no direct aid until the Soviets have met some specific requirement:

* Independence for the Baltics

* No more Soviet aid for countries such as Cuba and Syria
* Cut defense (Why should the United States cut our defense budget to feed the Soviet Union when they have not cut their own defense budget to provide food for their people?)
* Clarification of who controls the military and weaponry
Events in the Soviet Union today are not revolutionary but are evolutionary and we don't know where they will lead. Every day brings a new surprise and with it a new strategy to pursue. We should be jubilant about the changes in the USSR and the apparent end to almost 75 years of Communist tyranny, but let's not be halfway to second base and have forgotten to tag up.

If we don't fend for ourselves and think rationally, who will? Who will turn back men such as Saddam Hussein and Moammar Gadhafi but us?

We need to watch carefully how the events in the Soviet Union unfold and perhaps remember how the United States won the Soviet chess challenge of the late 1970s during the height of the cold war. Our moves were dictated by making haste slowly.

SHOPPING UP A STORM

By Katy McGuire Caire

"Onions are onions, and that's all there is to it," a friend protested rather scornfully, as I literally dragged her over to the heaps of onions in the bins at one of our area supermarkets earlier today.

She couldn't understand my pleasure at seeing the just-arrived sweet Spanish onions, the "Gentle Giants" of the onion world, in the bins!

But, to me and to many others, one of the delightful advantages of the ending of summer and the coming of fall is the arrival of these onions from Idaho and Oregon, to add their zip of extra mild flavor to so many dishes.

With their golden bronze, thin skin and their larger than average size (whence comes their appropriate nickname, "Gentle Giants") these onions are a treat, however you choose to make use of them in your meals. I like to bake them whole or stuff them. I like them in salads, such as spinach and strawberry salad—oh, —I just plain like them!

So, don't (as my friend does) just grab up a few onions at random and use them only as seasonings; be a bit more adventurous, you and your palate will rejoice that you did!

Here's one of my favorite, and all but effortless, ways to use these onions or other onions:

SAUCY ONIONS

3 to 4 sweet Spanish onions (or 6 medium onions) peeled and washed
1/3 cup strained honey
1/4 cup water

3 Tblsp. butter
Arrange onions in single layer in baking dish. Mix the honey and water together and pour over the onions. Dot with butter. Cover and bake at 400 degrees for an hour. A tasty side dish!

I like to combine these onions with the vine-ripened juicy tomatoes now in the markets for a tasty salad; and I also like to combine the tomatoes with some of the young, small-sized okra.

Still roaming amongst the vegetable bins, broccoli is an especially good buy these days (and, it's at its freshest in fall, remember). Radishes, carrots, bell peppers and green cabbage are also good buys. And, sniff that wonderful aroma as you come to the fruit bins—where piles of apples say "Autumn." The new crops of Jonathans and McIntosh are in, and the Red Delicious also crowd the counters. Bananas, white grapes and peaches are good bargains as well.

Picnic hams are tops in value at the markets, as are Boston Butt fresh pork roasts. Ham shank portions are also a good bargain; and boneless whole or half hams are offered, at higher prices, naturally.

A bone-in beef round steak is marinating to tenderness in my refrigerator as I write this, waiting to be braised down to additional tenderness, along with sliced onions and bell peppers and fresh mushrooms. I shall serve this with some of the long grain rice specially priced just now; or perhaps I shall opt for some of that spaghetti on sale, instead.

Boneless round steaks are also on sale, as are sirloin tip roasts. Beef spareribs are a good buy, as is beef chunks for stew.

In the canned goods category, tuna is specially priced, as are some brands of beans and other vegetables for quick and tasty meals.

the $40,000 allowance for the Coleman Avenue Civic Center renovation reflected in the recreation fund and $30,000 for additional street paving, she was most pleased with the salary increase for the police officers.

"We were the lowest paying police department on the Coast," Rappold stated. "We were losing our people to other police departments where there was better pay offered. Maybe now, we will be able keep our trained officers."

She added, "The mayor did a good job on the budget. I have no doubt that I will vote for it."

Ward 2 Alderman Bob Hubbard expressed some disappointment with the board's inability to contribute more to the Hancock County Senior Citizens' group.

Hubbard said the group appeared again at the public hearing on the budget held last Sunday and requested the board increase Waveland's contribution to $5,000 in 1992.

However, he added that the board could not commit at this time to the amount asked for by the seniors' group.

He concluded by saying the budget is acceptable as it stands and that he was glad to see the budget reflected no tax increases.

Ward 3 Alderman Curtis P. "Phil" Colson said he felt the budget reflected a consideration for each department. "Some departments show needed salary increases and all show allowances for improvements in equipment and supplies."

"I believe we have to prioritize the city's need, beginning with drainage. I would like to see more funds devoted to recreation, but at this time we are not putting the cart before the horse. We must handle drainage first."

Colson added, with the addition of a few minor changes previously discussed by the board, he was satisfied with the proposed budget.

Ward 4 Alderman Stan Weidman could not be reached for comment.

WEDDINGS, ENGAGEMENTS

Aguzin-Oblepias

The wedding of Stephen Michael Aguzin and Laarni Javier Oblepias was solemnized early this summer at St. Patrick Catholic Church in Rockville, Md. The Reverend Monsignor Thomas A. Kane was celebrant of the Nuptial Mass, which followed a traditional Filipino theme.

The groom is a son of Mrs. Caroline Meade Aguzin of Waveland and the late August J. (Gus) Aguzin. The bride's parents are Engr. and Mrs. Nemesio Oblepias Jr. of Manila, Philippines.

Musical selections were presented by Alberta K. Sugg, organist, and Joan R. Wickes, vocalist.

Offertory gift bearers were nephews of the groom Mark and Adam Caldwell, while his nephew Ryan Lommel was altar server.

Readings from scripture were rendered by Rebecca Lommel of Fort Meade, Md. and Susan Caldwell of Lake Charles, La., both sisters of the groom.

In Filipino tradition, sponsors for the couple were Luisa R. Claricia, Leticia E. Ibanez, Shirley M. Laurent, Winona A. Lampa, Aida G. Lanuza, Benjamin P. Claricia, Mosises E. Ibanez, Melvin A.

Laurent and Arnado A. Oblepias.

The bride wore an original design gown, made in the Philippines of satin and silk charmeuse. It featured a sweetheart bodice of hand-embroidered organza, applied with silk flowers from the scalloped, jeweled neckline to the basque waistline. Edwardian-style sleeves of heavily embroidered lace formed a point at the top of the hand. The V-shaped back was defined with a pillow bow of silk charmeuse, which fell into a cathedral train.

Bouffant tulle gathered onto a flowered headband framed the bride's face. An attached veil flowed into a cathedral train.

Susan Munar was maid of honor. Serving as bridesmaids were Sharon Plunkett and Aneya Calderon.

Jessica J. Lommel, niece of the groom, was flower girl.

The honor attendant and flower girl wore floor-length dresses of pink silk charmeuse, each designed and made in the Philippines. A square neckline was embroidered with silk flowers which flowed down the sides of the bodice.

Edwardian sleeves were of organza edged with satin and silk flowers, while the full skirt with organza overlay was gathered onto a satin waistband. Large bows of pink satin accented the shoulders.

The bridesmaids wore dresses of similar color and design. Rodney T. Aguzin, brother of the groom, was best man.

Groomsmen were Kevin W. Laurent, cousin of the groom, and Edwin E. Martin. Donald M. Caldwell, brother-in-law of the groom, was usher.

Paolo O. Llamas, nephew of the bride, was ring bearer. The bride's mother was attired in a tea length off-white silk dress with long-sleeved lace tunic top. The groom's mother chose a long-sleeved, blue-gray embossed silk dress featuring a side drape and silk braid outlining the V-neckline.

A formal dinner reception followed the ceremony at the Sheraton Potomac Hotel. Music was provided by Frank Weisberg, pianist. Decorations were by Dan Dicastro.

After a wedding trip to Niagara Falls, Canada, the couple will reside in Silver Spring, Md.

The bride is a graduate of St. Mary's College and received a bachelor's degree in hotel and restaurant administration from the University of the Philippines. She is employed by the American Chemical Society.

The groom, a St. Clare and St. Stanislaus graduate, attended Louisiana State University and received a bachelor's degree in business administration from the University of New Orleans. He is employed as a financial analyst at IBM in Rockville.

Pre-nuptial parties

A rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's mother and brother at the Far East Restaurant in Rockville.

A bridal shower was hosted by Mrs. Gena Laurent in Herndon, Va.

A wedding night party (Filipino tradition), at which wedding gifts were opened, was hosted by Mosises and Leticia Ibanez in Brooksville, Md.

in a 3 p.m. ceremony at First Baptist Church on Main Street in Bay St. Louis. A reception will follow at the Hancock County Civic Center.

Relatives and friends of the couple are invited to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Michael Aguzin

Fricke-Everett

The approaching marriage of Jo Ell Marie Everett and Gary F. Fricke is announced by her mother, Mrs. Beatrice G. Everett of Lakeshore. Mr. Fricke is the son of Mrs. Margie Amason of Poplarville and Gary F. Fricke Sr. of Lakeshore.

Miss Everett is a 1987 graduate of Hancock North Central High School. She received an associate degree as an administrative assistant from Phillips College in 1990. She is employed with Bea's Arcade Inc.

Mr. Fricke is a 1984 graduate of Hancock North Central High and is employed with Boudreaux's Dry Wall Inc. in New Orleans.

The couple will exchange wedding vows Saturday, September 21

Youth Ballet Ensemble holds audition Saturday

The Coast Youth Ballet Ensemble, under the direction of Sharon Loiacano, is holding auditions on Saturday, Sept. 21 from 10 a.m. until noon to select dancers for the ensemble's second season.

The audition class will be held at the youth company's home studio, The Ballet Place, at 211 Necaise Avenue in Bay St. Louis.

Loiacano is looking for dancers age 11 and older with at least three years of classical ballet training who are on pointe or starting pointe this year.

Dancers should wear leotards or tights and bring both technique and pointe shoes (if already on pointe) and arrive at the Ballet Place by 9:45 a.m.

The 15 performing members and five apprentice members will be announced immediately following the audition.

The ensemble's first scheduled performance will be Dec. 7, and dancers will be required to attend weekend rehearsals starting in October.

The talented youth company is available for performances and lectured demonstrations for local organizations and events, helping to educate the Coast audience and giving serious dancers valuable performing experience. CYBE is a non-profit organization.

Contact Sharon Loiacano at 467-4601 or 466-2625 for more information on the audition or booking performances.

CLUBS, AUXILIARIES

Swing Club

The Gulfport Parks and Recreation Department and the Gulf Coast Chapter of the Swing Club will present a Swing Festival Saturday, Oct. 5, at the Rice Pavilion, Jones Park, Gulfport. There will be two stages, four swinging bands and continuous music from 2 to 9 p.m.

On Stage Two, starting at 2:30 will be "Yesterday," Garland Alford's 16-piece band, playing many of the newer pop tunes. Featured on Stage One at 4 p.m. will be Mike Brewer's Western Swing Band playing Texas-type swing a la Hee-Haw, Pee Wee King and others.

At 5:30 on Stage Two, Dave Brown and The Port City Group will be playing small group swing as in Up-River jazz. This is one of the best small groups on the Coast.

At 7 p.m. on Stage Two will be Art Cissell's Stardusters playing all the great Big Band classics of the 30's and 40's.

Admission for the entire festival will be $4 per person. The proceeds will be used for the Seniors Center of Gulfport.

There will be drinks and snacks and plenty of parking space. This will be the first Swing Festival, and it is hoped it will be a yearly event. All ages are invited, but if you are under 35, you must be accompanied by your parents or grandparents.

American Legion Auxiliary Unit 39

Tuesday, Aug. 20, VACS chairman Shirley Clemons and Genevieve Cole hosted an ice cream and cake party under the sponsorship of the Clement R. Bontemps American Legion Auxiliary, Unit 139, for 72 veterans in the VA Hospital in Gulfport.

The auxiliary also sponsored a sing-a-long, co-hosted by Roslyn Weathers and Oris Planchard, for the residents of Hotel Reed Nursing Center. Director of activities there is Beth Gruzinskas. Lena Mae Oustalet played the piano, while Roslyn Weathers led the singing and Oris Planchard visited with the residents.

The dining room was filled for this occasion. The residents enjoyed the festivities and refreshments.

WAVELAND

TOPS MS 233 Waveland met Tuesday, Sept. 10 at the Waveland Library. Randy and Judy were the week's best losers. They lost 3 1/2 pounds. Judy received her 50-pound-loss charm. Randy was August best loser.

The open house will be delayed until Sept. 24. Waveland TOPS will not meet Tuesday, Sept. 17 due to election day. A weigh-in will be Wednesday, Sept. 18 between 5:30 and 6:30 p.m. The regular meeting is scheduled for Tuesday, Sept. 24.

TOPS member Myrtle, who is in Gulfport Memorial Hospital recovering from surgery, was wished a fast recovery.

Anyone interested in losing weight sensibly and maintaining that weight loss is invited to visit one of the meetings.

Call Charlotte at 467-5790 for information.

Beta Sigma Phi XI Theta Chapter

Beta Sigma Phi sorority of Pass Christian held its monthly meeting Monday, Sept. 9 at the home of Mary Davids.

The opening ritual was repeated by all members. After the reading of the minutes and treasurer's report, a report was given by the ways and means chairman, Loretta Ladner. She announced that the next project would be a raffle on a "basket of cheers."

Chances on the raffle will be sold beginning Oct. 4 and will continue until the drawing in December.

A motion was made, seconded and carried by all members that the proceeds would be given to the Doll and Toy Fund, Rotary Club and the Volunteer Fire Department to help with Christmas lighting and to the Salvation Army. A scholarship is also given in May to a graduate of Pass High School.

Hostesses were Mary Davids, Frona Oestricher and Edna Szymanski.

The next meeting will be Monday, 7 p.m., Oct. 14. After the closing ritual refreshments were enjoyed.

Professional Secretaries International

Since 1942, Professional Secretaries International has set the standard for secretarial professionals everywhere.

The club represents 40,000 members. Secretaries, executive assistants, administrative assistants, information specialists and office managers are just a few of the types of professionals that make up the association.

PSI offers services to help gain the winning edge. Gulf Coast chapter meetings are the second Tuesday of the month, 5:30 p.m., Harrison County Tourism-Commission Office, Courthouse Road, Gulfport.

Call Donna Corr, 865-5597, or Janet Stokes, 377-2453.

Donation

Hancock County Tourism and Gaming Association member Debby Tyner (standing at right) gives a $1,100 check to Tony Catania of the Hancock County Youth Task Force. The money donated was from the proceeds of a car wash/rummage sale held by the T&GA to benefit the task force's proposed county youth center. (Echo staff photo by Traci Bonney)

Stanislaus stops Bay High 42-16

BY ELLIS CUEVAS
and RANDY PONDER
The St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws defeated the Bay High Tigers 42-16 in high school football action Friday.

Both teams appeared to be jittery in the first few minutes of play, as officials dropped flags frequently on infractions. Stanislaus' depth in experience was evidenced in the third quarter when the Rocks scored 21 unanswered points.

Rock head coach Ken Lyons had high praises for Rocky Gaudin's Tigers saying, "The Tigers were well prepared for us and disrupted our pass routes and running in the first half."

"We made some adjustments at halftime, and of course they did too, and I feel the difference was probably in experience and the little things that click. Our kids believed in themselves and I think that carried us a long way."

Both coaches addressed the Bay Rotary Club on Wednesday and at that time Lyons, who is in his fifth year as head mentor of SSC said, "Rocky (Gaudin) is in the same position as I was several years ago in developing my program at Stanislaus."

"I'm not making excuses, but we are a young and inexperienced team. Our success is in the future," Tiger head coach Rocky Gaudin said after the game.

"We gave them seven points to start the game and we came back to take the lead. They had a big play to score and go ahead just before halftime. It's hard for a young team to come back when they fall behind like that," Gaudin added. "We will have to play super tough to hang in there with good teams."

St. Stanislaus scored with 4:22 off the clock in the first quarter on a 2-yard run by Tate Thriffley after a fumble recovery on the Tigers' 7.

The Rocks took the initial kickoff, but the lengthy drive ended and they turned the ball over as the Tiger defense tightened on their own 21. The Tigers lost the ball on the next play on a fumble with Stanislaus on Bay High's 7.

Thriffley moved to the 2-yard line on the first carry and then into the end zone on the next. Allen Schafer added the PAT giving Stanislaus a 7-0 lead. Bay High came roaring back, racking up four first downs in a row, before stopping themselves with a fumble.

Two plays later, a Stanislaus pass was intercepted by defensive back Geirrit Carver, who dodged Rock-A-Chaws with some nifty running in an 18-yard touchdown.

Sophomore quarterback Sam Shepard, who got the nod as the Tiger quarterback, converted on a 2-point play giving Bay High a 8-7 edge with 10:15 left in the second quarter.

Stanislaus regained the lead 15-8, on a lengthy drive with a Bill Dreher pass to Jeremiah Fuhrer for a touchdown and a pass to Mike Lee to add 2 more points with only 47 seconds left in the first half.

Stanislaus came out steaming in the third quarter after the recovery of another fumble on the Tigers' 46. On the second play from scrimmage, Dreher struck with a 45-yard touchdown pass to Mickey Quinlan and Schafer added the PAT giving the Rocks a 22-8 edge.

The second SSC touchdown of third stanza came, when one of Dreher's shuffle passes to Lee moved the ball 34 yards to the Tiger 1 with Lee scoring on the next play. This with a PAT gave SSC a 29-8 lead with 7:03 left in the quarter.

Stanislaus capitalized on another Tiger fumble recovered by Kerry Whitmann at mid-field.

Ten plays later Thriffley crossed the goal line on a 3-yard run and the PAT raised the score to 36-8.

Shepard got the Tiger offense rolling on their next and best drive of the night. He mixed run and passing plays capped by Adrian Whavers (who was the Tiger work horse on kickoff returns and ground out some nice gainers) scored with a 1-yard tally.

Shepard, who showed signs on how he earned a starter position, then hit Tres Reed for a 2-point conversion moving the score to SSC 36-BHS 16.

Bay High stopped a Stanislaus drive with a pass interception by Lyman Curry.

The Tigers then returned to ball to the Rocks on their fifth fumble of the night.

Jeffrey Bishop took over quarterbacking chores for Stanislaus and capped off the drive with a 21-yard pass to Lee for the final score of the evening giving Stanislaus a 42-16 edge.

Lyons, who was happy with his team's outcome in the game against the Tigers, indicated that Bay High is rebuilding a program this year; they should win games this season in their division and will be a team to contend with next year.

Both Bay High and St. Stanislaus will be at home next Friday.

Stanislaus, 2-0, will play host to St. Martin's Yellow Jackets in District IV play.

The Tigers, 0-2, will play host to Forest County AHS in district play.

Red Rebels roust Hawks 43-21

BY TRACI BONNEY

For the second consecutive week, a Rebel uprising has cost the Hancock Hawks a victory.

The varsity Hawks dropped their season opener 27-18 to the George County Rebels September 6, then another contingent of Rebels — Harrison Central — vanquished the Hancock team 43-21 Friday in Gulfport.

The Red Rebels received the opening kickoff, but turned the ball over to the Hawks four plays later on a punt. The Hawks moved the ball downfield for the first touchdown of the night, then put it between the goalposts on the PAT to take the score to 7-0.

The Harrison Central team quickly rallied, though. Despite a holding penalty that moved the team from their 30 back to their 26, the Red Rebels' QB Steven Moore ran the ball to the Hawks' 8, then let Kenny McNair take over on the next two plays to drive into the end zone. The PAT was good, taking the score to 7-7 with 4:49 on the first quarter clock.

The Hawks made a six-play attempt to drive the ball downfield, but was forced to punt to the Red Rebels.

Five plays into the second quarter, the Red Rebels crossed the goal line on a 15-yard TD. With the PAT, the score was 14-7.

After the subsequent return kick, the Hawks spent 15 plays moving down the gridiron with a series of short gains. On the 16th play, at 4th and goal Hawk QB Jeff Favre shot off a short pass to Dennis Malley for the second HHS touchdown of the night. A 2-point conversion attempt failed, leaving the score 14-13 in the Red Rebels' favor with 3:08 left in the half.

Harrison Central took the return kick but, gave the ball back when Hawk Ryan Lee snagged a Red Rebel pass. However, the Hawks returned the ball to the Red Rebels four plays later.

The half was almost over when the Red Rebels took the ball in for their third touchdown. With 0:13 on the clock, Harrison Central put the ball through the goalpost to take the score to 22-13.

In the second half, the Hawks took the ball on the return kick, but lost it on a failed fourth down attempt to move the ball the four yards needed for a first down.

The Red Rebels fared as badly as the Hawks, and were forced to punt five plays later. The Hawks held onto the ball for 16 more plays and kept the ball into the first minute of the fourth quarter, but lost it on the 17th when a field goal attempt went astray.

A couple of runs and a pass later, the Red Rebels scored a 52-yard TD. The PAT added another point, making the score 29-13 with 10:34 left in the game.

The Hawks weren't beaten yet, however. They took the kick at their 26, moved it with passes and handoffs to the 34, the 43, the Red Rebel 41, the 34, then the 16.

Then, in what may have been his most spectacular play of the night, Hawk Jeff Favre dropped back for a pass, but found no receiver open. Spotting a corridor down the left side of the field, he evaded pursuing Red Rebels, ran to the left and dove the last few feet across the goal line.

A successful 2-point conversion bumped the score to 29-21 with 7:55 to go.

Undaunted, the Red Rebels scored again three plays later. The PAT gave Harrison Central 36 to Hancock High's 21.

The Hawks held onto the ball for eight more plays, but an unsuccessful fourth down try to gain yardage put the ball back in the Red Rebels' hands.

Harrison Central's team promptly showed once again they knew what to do with the ball. Six plays later, they scored the last TD of the night. With the PAT, the final score was 43-21.

The Hawks had the ball for a couple of plays after that, but the clock ended the game.

Hawks head coach Irvin Favre said the team had "too many mistakes; the defense was bad and the secondary was sloppy."

"We just have to regroup. We've got some good players, but we're a young team."

Coach Tim Favre concurred with the HHS head coach's assessment of the game. "We played hard; we've got to regroup and get ready for next week, that's all."

The Hawks' next match is their first home game, a local rivalry match with the Long Beach Bearcats. Kickoff is at 7:30 at the new HHS stadium at the high school.

ELECT
HOWARD LIZANA
Supervisor
District 3

If elected I want to look out for our most important natural resource, the people of Hancock County.

•To get more industry and to see that local people get those jobs.

•To economize our county like we would if it was our own business.

•To blacktop dirt roads. Automobiles are the second most expensive thing that we have to buy, we need good roads to drive these expensive automobiles on.

•To get more recreation, like tennis and basketball so more than just one or two kids can have something to do together, not just team sports.

•To improve the dumpster situation - have more of them or empty them more often.

•To improve drainage. Check it out with people in problem areas when the water is high.

•To better education - Vocation and Agriculture.

I want to be an asset to the people of Hancock County - Not a liability.

Re-Elect Michael "Mike" Ladner
Hancock County Supervisor, District FivePROVEN LEADERSHIP
In Economic Development

AND

Quality of Life!

Mike has served his country and his county throughout his life.

The combination of being world traveled and a native Hancock County son, provides Mike with the broad range of ideas and ideals to preserve all that is wonderful about life here and capitalize on what can be improved!

•Representative to the Waveland Regional Wastewater Management Board.

•Fought to keep property taxes from increasing!

•Fought to keep county debt LOW - Hancock County utilizes only one-third of its borrowing capacity.

•Fought to create the five fire protection districts in the county to protect the citizenry and lower insurance rates!

•Directly involved with marketing old Hancock General Hospital building, resulting in new jobs and clean, safe living facilities for our impaired elderly.

•Worked to replace bridges and resurface more than 50 miles of roads in District Five.

•Past member of the Governor's Manpower Planning Council.

•Retired from United States Air Force.

•VFW Post, state and national officer.

•Served in occupational forces in Germany and the Viet Nam era - knows what change and hardship are!

•Owned and operated several businesses, including: real estate, retail and security businesses.

•Member of fraternal organizations: DAV (member), VFW (past Commander), American Legion (member), Knights of Columbus (member), Non-Commissioned Officers' Association (member), American Heart Association (Board of Directors).

•Served as Veteran's Service Officer in Hancock County for 7^{1/2} years.

EDUCATION

Education in Hancock County continues to improve. The building of the new high school and the educational commitment of our leaders is part of Mike's efforts toward the future.

•Graduate of Kiln High School.

•Earned three years college credit from the University of Maryland through night courses while stationed overseas and from new Mexico Western State Teachers' College in Business Administration.

PROGRESSIVE IDEAS

Mike has been a leader in the progress made in the transition to the Unit System. The Unit System works because supervisors are now a policy-making board. Tax dollars have been saved and work schedules have been streamlined in an effort to save tax dollars.

•Close supervision to insure that tax dollars continue to be spent wisely and benefit everyone in Hancock County. The county's financial outlook is BRIGHT!

•Better utilization of Stennis International Airport.

•Use Hancock County's greatest potential, its people, including youth and senior citizens.

•Use of Hancock County's highways, coastal waterways, port and airport to attract industry and MORE JOBS.

•Continue meetings with citizens in order to be kept informed of their needs and concerns.

OTHER ACCOMPLISHMENTS THAT CONCERN ME!

1. Consolidation of Recreation Departments of municipalities and county to conserve money and time.

2. A program to hard surface all of the county roads. This will SAVE THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS in equipment and maintenance.

3. Bring an aggressive recycling program to the residents of Hancock County. This will save the environment for our children.

4. Create an aggressive tourism marketing program and bring new money into our county.

I AM PROUD OF MY RECORD OF SERVICE TO OUR COUNTY

A PROVEN LEADER

Friends:

I have a reputation in the legislature for changing things and some legislators don't like it. We must change to improve. Mississippi's disorganized state government and outdated constitution are holding us back. Change is what the people of this senate district have asked for. As the only candidate in the District 46 Senate race with legislative experience, I won't have to start from scratch. I can continue to represent you without interruption to promote positive change and progress in state government.

Vic Franckiewicz, Jr.

EDUCATION

Promoted and supported:

- funding the BEST program
- school accreditation based on performance, not paperwork
- legislation to make schoolboards accountable to the taxpayers.

TAXES

Has worked for:

- Tax reform
- reduced car tag fees

Introduced legislation to rebate illegal taxes on federal retirement benefits.

GAMBLING

Fought successfully to:

- prohibit convicted criminals from getting gaming licenses
- give local governments a fair share of gaming revenues

GOVERNMENT ACCOUNTABILITY

Introduced legislation:

- supporting initiative and referendum
- limiting terms for legislators
- prohibiting convicted felons from holding office

Fought for the people's right to:

- efficient and accountable government
- recall public officials
- vote on the consolidation of city & county government
- a new constitution

JOBS

Wrote and passed legislation:

- setting up job retraining center for laid off ammo plant employees
- encouraging aquaculture development on the Coast.
- reorganizing the Department of Agriculture

Worked to encourage business expansion, including the developing of high-tech spin-off industries from Stennis Space center.

BACKGROUND AND QUALIFICATIONS

- Current State Senator District 4
- Master's degree in City Planning, Communities and Regional Economic Development
- Served as:
 - Mayor of Bay St. Louis
 - City Manager of Picayune, Ms.

- Former supervisor Long Range Planning Martin Marietta Aerospace
- Former Special Coordinator for the Director, Bureau of Marine Resources

Election '91

The Sea Coast Echo requested a brief summary from each candidate for office in the September 17 primary election. The following responses were received:

*responded
—did not respond

Hancock County Sheriff

* Ronald Peterson (D)
— Scott Duncan (D)
* Ray Murphy (R)

Ronnie Peterson
Democrat Ronald A. "Ronnie" Peterson, 47, is currently Hancock County sheriff. "I have served as your sheriff the last 12 years and would like to continue to provide the best law enforcement this county has ever had. With 20 years' service as a law officer, I am the most experienced candidate in the race. I want to continue being your sheriff."

Ray Murphy
Republican Ray Murphy, 36, is a New Orleans police officer and former Bay St. Louis police chief. "With 15 years' professional experience and a bachelor of science degree in criminal justice from USM, I am the most qualified candidate. As your sheriff, I believe the most important issues facing Hancock County are gaming, consolidation, narcotics and high visibility in the northern part of the county."

Chancery Clerk

* E. Mike Necaise (D)
* Gerald Spotorno (R)

Mike Necaise
E. Michael "Mike" Necaise, 42, is currently chancery clerk. "As your chancery clerk, I have strived to make office operations more efficient by the use of computers, microfilming records and improving the recording of instruments, whereby residents complete their transactions with little inconvenience. I propose to continue seeking cost-effective measures and providing the service residents deserve."

Gerald Spotorno
Republican Gerald A. Spotorno, 40, is operations manager for a transportation company. "Court clerk offices command some of the highest salaries statewide, based on a fee system for rendered services. Salaries reportedly higher than that of governor are not uncommon. I propose to actively lobby the legislature for fixed salaries, returning excessive, underserved monies to the taxpayers of Hancock County."

Tax Assessor/Collector

* Eddie Murtagh (D)
* Sherman Necaise (D)

Eddie Murtagh
Democrat Edward D. "Eddie" Murtagh Jr. is currently Hancock County tax assessor/collector. "We have endeavored to bring you a modern, up-to-date tax office, one that is efficient, fair and dedicated to serving you through commitment, communication, cooperation, trust and mutual respect."

Sherman Necaise
Democrat Sherman R. Necaise Jr., 29, owns a security business. "A lifelong resident of Hancock County and a graduate of Hancock North Central with honors, I spent four years in the U.S. Navy, two in naval schooling. Now I run a security business. If elected, the only promises I plan to make are fair appraisals and friendlier, professional service."

Coroner

* Norma Stiglet (D)
* Larry Koenenn (D)
* Donald Mauffray (D)

Norma C. Stiglet
Democrat Norma C. Stiglet, 57, currently serves as Hancock County coroner. "State certified with 7 1/2 years' experience, I have been involved with investigating over 600 deaths. Completed courses include toxicology, odontology, firearm evidence, crime scene, anthropology, motor vehicle fatalities, medicolegal death investigation. My goal is to bring the coroner's office forward through education, new techniques and 24-hour continuous, dedicated service."

Larry J. Koenenn Sr.
Democrat Larry J. Koenenn Sr., 55, works in sales with Riemann Insurance. "A lifelong resident of Hancock County, I feel, with my experience in working with people at the time of a death and my knowledge of the county and cities, that I can be on the scene more promptly and efficiently. Vote for a man that can get the job done."

James D. Mauffray
Democrat James Donald Mauffray, 64, is retired. "I have 14 years' medical experience: two years as an army medical technician; seven years as a V.A. nursing assistant; five years as an office manager/relief hospital administrator. I am a college graduate, married, retired; capable, compassionate and available full time. I am not committed to any faction."

The James T. Ward Family

Ward Vies for District 1 Seat

James T. Ward, 49, recently announced his candidacy for Hancock County District 1 Supervisor.

Born in Ocean Springs, he was graduated from Ocean Springs High School in 1960, then enlisted in the U.S. Marine Corps for four years.

After receiving an honorable discharge from the Marines, he moved to Bay St. Louis, where he began employment at the Mississippi Test Facility (now the John C. Stennis Space Center) with the security department. He was later employed by the Boeing Co. as a mechanic in the Saturn program.

He has owned Ward Well Drilling for 21 years and has experience in business administration.

Ward is married to the former Cheryl Darlene Moran, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Moran of Lakeshore. They have three children and two grandchildren, all Hancock County residents.

He said, "After careful consideration I decided to seek election for the office of District 1 Supervisor. I see and hear each day the needs of our community, district and county. Improving these needs - such as drainage, roads, beach, recreational programs for our children and beautification of District 1 - will be my top priorities."

"I am familiar with the process and procedures required to get jobs done effectively and efficiently."

VOTE TUESDAY, SEPT. 17, DEMOCRATIC PRIMARY

Dear Friend,

After 17 years in state and local government, I've learned a few things about making government work for people. Government must be run as efficiently as private business. We deserve a dollar's worth of service for every tax dollar paid.

I've also learned that to be effective, government must be responsive to the people it serves. And that means listening to people - really listening.

Like you, I believe we must improve education and increase job opportunities in our area. But our goals can only be reached with cooperation between government and the people it serves. I want the opportunity to serve, and seek your vote.

I'll work with you, I'll work for you, and I'll never stop listening.

Mike Ladner
Democrat Michael "Mike" Ladner, 58, currently is District 5 supervisor.

"I believe in Hancock County and its people. It's a great place to live and raise a family. Hancock County demands good leadership. I will continue to work hard to help our county reach its greatest potential without raising taxes."

Danny Johnson
Democrat Danny Johnson, 34, is a marketing sales representative.

"I possess formal education and job experience in government, finances and construction. I feel qualified to uphold the position of supervisor District 5. My plans are to create a more efficient government to save tax dollars and create long-term plans for the future growth of Hancock County."

Ola Eugene Moran
Democrat Ola Eugene Moran, 55, is a farm manager for Coca-Cola.

"I have had 30 years of road experience, including the operation of heavy equipment. I also served 15 of those 30 years as foreman of a road crew for Hancock County. If elected supervisor, I will serve my district to the best of my ability. I would appreciate your vote."

Roy L. Mitchell
Democrat Roy L. Mitchell, 61, is a foreman.

"As I know the working system of Hancock County, I will show the people results from their tax dollars. I will not be the middleman when called upon. I will see directly that the job is done. There will be better roads, drainage and education, and more job opportunities."

E. Marvin Thompson
Republican E. Marvin Thompson, 34, is an offshore worker.

"As supervisor of District 5, I want to develop a plan for continual street and drainage upkeep. My plan for waste removal will finance itself without additional burdens on our community. If you cast your vote for me, there will be changes for the better. Thank you."

Barney R. Necaize

Democrat Barney R. Necaize, 49, is a Bay High School teacher.

"I have enjoyed meeting and talking with people in District 5. Most of you know me from my educational background. I will focus on problem areas, economic growth, promoting job opportunities and supporting public services. I will work to make Hancock County an enjoyable, beautiful and safe place to live."

State Senate District 46

- * Vic Franckiewicz (D)
- * Bill Johnson (D)
- * Tom Recore (R)
- * James Overstreet (R)

Democrat Vic Franckiewicz Jr., 37, currently represents District 46 as senator.

"Mississippi's government is a complicated operation. A senator needs the education to understand it, the experience to run it, and the initiative to improve it. With 15 years of public service and a master's degree backing it up, I will continue promoting the new spirit of Mississippi in the Senate."

Vic Franckiewicz Jr.

Bill Johnson
Democrat Bill Johnson, 36, is special projects manager for Waste Management Inc.

"Effective government is responsive to the people it serves. Better education and economic development can only be reached through cooperation. After 17 years in state and local government, I have experience making government work for people. I'll work with you. I'll work for you. And I'll always keep listening."

James Overstreet
Republican James Overstreet, 33, is a contract engineer.

"I am enthusiastic about the excellent opportunity Republicans will have to vote against the party that endorsed Jesse Jackson and Michael Dukakis for president. I urge them to take full advantage of this opportunity by voting in the September 17 Republican primary; and remember to vote Overstreet State Senate #46."

Sen. Lott's survey reveals constituents want recycling program, spending cuts

Mississippians overwhelmingly say they are willing to pay more to cut back on the amount of waste going into landfills, oppose taxpayer financing of political campaigns and believe Social Security recipients should not lose benefits for working.

At least 80 percent of the 2,000 Mississippians who responded to a recent survey by U.S. Senator Trent Lott stated these opinions.

"I am very pleased with the tremendous response to my questionnaire. In addition to the specific questions that we asked, I received thousands of written comments on these and other issues," said Lott.

Eighty-two percent said they would support a national policy to promote recycling and the use of biodegradable products even if it meant higher costs to business, consumers and local government. Eighteen percent said they would not pay more.

By the same margins, Mississippians said they oppose taxpayer financing of federal campaigns.

And, 79.9 percent said they believe there should be no restrictions on that limit the earnings of social security recipients, while 20.1 percent supported the restrictions. Currently benefits are reduced for retirees earning more than $9,360.

The survey, which was conducted over the last several months by a mail-in survey, also showed that 70 percent of Mississippians believe the federal government should cut spending to reduce the federal deficit. Only two percent said raising taxes was the best method, while 28 percent said a combination of spending cuts and tax increases would be needed.

"There is no question that Mississippians believe that we are already paying enough federal taxes," Lott said. "From the comments and the survey questions, that was very clear. I think that is among the top reasons that so many opposed federal funding of campaigns."

Seventy-four percent of those responding said they are not convinced that the Soviet Union is no longer a threat to the U.S. and its allies, while 26 percent said the USSR is not a threat.

State residents also support lowering the capital gains tax by more than 3 to 1, according to the survey. And, 70 percent of respondents said they oppose a proposal to institute federally-mandated paternal leave.

The survey showed that Mississippians were more divided on the issues of reducing American dependence on foreign oil and the role of the federal government in education.

On energy independence, 45 percent support giving incentives for domestic oil exploration as a means of reducing dependence on foreign oil; 22 percent support an increased commitment to nuclear power; 19 percent support federally mandated conservation; and 14 percent said best options was opening areas such as the Outer Continental Shelf and the Arctic National Wildlife Refuge to exploration.

On the federal role in education, 51 percent said the U.S. should allow states the freedom to set educational standards; 33 percent said they preferred mandated national standards; while 16 percent said the federal government should provide more funds to the states for education.

COMMUNITY SERVICES

Adult Literacy Education

Tutoring sessions for adults who want to learn to read and write are available through the Hancock County Library System. The program is open free of charge to any adult aged 16 and above who wants to improve reading skills to a grade five level.

Each student meets one-on-one with a certified tutor trained in the use of the Laubach Adult Literacy method. Student/tutor units meet at a time and learning center convenient to both. Learning centers for literacy are currently located in Bay St. Louis, Kiln, Waveland, Diamondhead and Pearllington.

Call Ruth Krebs, Hancock County literacy coordinator, at the Bay St. Louis Library, 467-5282, for information. Persons who wish to teach adults to read as volunteer literacy tutors are also encouraged to call.

Blood Pressure

Retired Senior Volunteer Program sponsors free blood pressure testing Tuesdays, 9:30-11:30 a.m., American Legion Post No. 77, Waveland; Wednesdays, 10:30-11:30 a.m., RSVP office, Senior Citizens Center, Old Spanish Trail, Bay St. Louis.

Hancock Medical Center Women's Auxiliary (Pink Ladies) conducts free blood pressure testing at the hospital, 10-11:30 a.m. Tuesdays.

Legal Line

Volunteer attorneys answer legal questions from the general public from 6 to 7 p.m., first Wednesdays at 1-374-4160. The service is sponsored by Harrison County Young Lawyers, South Mississippi Planning and Development District Area Agency on Aging and South Mississippi Legal Services Corporation.

Money Management

The Consumer Money Management Center serves the public by providing free financial consultations as well as informational literature and seminars for employers, educational institutions and civic and professional groups.

Information and assistance from the center relates to various aspects of personal money management including budgeting, credit repayment, insurance, and investments.

The service is sponsored by Mississippi State University and Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service. To set up an appointment call Hancock County Extension Office, 467-5456.

Senior Citizens Center

Located in the Valena C. Jones Bldg. at 301 Old Spanish Trail in Bay St. Louis, the center serves Hancock County citizens 60 plus years of age.

Under the Hancock County Human Resource Agency, the center provides classes in ceramics, macramé, art, counted cross stitch, silk flowers, ornaments, framing and various other crafts. Other programs include "Reminiscence" and "For Men Only." A morning snack is provided with donations from various clubs and businesses.

The center has a contract to provide 35 home delivered meals a day to those seniors who cannot provide for themselves, and 25 meals for those who have a need for a hot well-balanced meal daily in the cafeteria at the center.

Transportation is provided through a contract with Coast Area Transportation for most seniors in the county to bring them into the center, or to take them to the grocery, doctor, etc.

The contract with Methodist Senior Services provides two homemakers for about two hours a week to homebound, needy seniors to do light house-keeping or errands for them.

For more information, call the center at 467-9292 from 7:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

American Cancer Society

Assistance to victims of cancer is available through Hancock and Harrison county chapters of the American Cancer Society.

Necessary items for patients, such as dressings, ostomy and sickroom supplies are available to those in need. Equipment which may be loaned to patients includes wheelchairs and hospital beds.

Assistance is available for transportation to qualifying hospitals.

Several rehabilitation programs are offered, including "Reach To Recovery", in which volunteers who have had mastectomies visit new breast cancer patients (with approval of physician) to assist in emotional, physical and psychological rehabilitation.

Support programs are also available to ostomy and laryngectomy patients.

American Cancer Society service request forms are available by contacting the Gulfport office at 896-7024.

St. Vincent Thrift Store

Waveland Conference, St. Vincent de Paul Society operates a thrift store, City Hall Annex, Coleman Avenue. It is open Tuesday, Thursday and Friday from 10 until 3, and Saturday, 10 a.m. until noon. An information and referral service is available from 1:30 until 3:30 p.m. on Wednesday. Proceeds benefit needy regardless of race or religion. For additional information, call 467-0703.

Bay-Waveland Crisis Pregnancy Center

The Bay-Waveland Crisis Pregnancy Center offers free counseling, pregnancy tests, maternity and baby clothes. Located on Highway 90, next to the Unique Shoppe in Waveland, the center offers a 24-hour hotline, 467-3444.

Jobs for Mississippi Graduates

Seniors at Hancock High School who plan to go directly to work after graduation may enroll in the Jobs for Mississippi Graduates Program (JMG), for assistance in locating quality jobs after graduation.

The program, which is one of six in the state, seeks to enhance employability skills.

For additional information, contact Mark France at Hancock High School at 467-2251.

Incest Survivors Anonymous

Incest Survivors Anonymous, a support group for survivors of childhood sexual abuse by a family member or other authority figure, meets weekly. For more information about dates, times and locations, call Susan at 466-3459 or Barbara at 255-1092.

PWA/HIV Project of Mississippi

The Hancock County branch of the PWA/HIV Project of Mississippi has an anonymous support group for persons with AIDS, and another for their loved ones and caretakers. The Bay St. Louis based affiliate of the statewide organization serves Hancock County and west Harrison County.

For more information, call Edith Back at 467-2445 or Betty Brunner at 467-8589.

GED Classes

Anyone interested in preparing for the GED will find help and free instructions at the Hancock High School library.

Mrs. Lois Abrams teaches day classes Monday and Tuesday from 9 to noon.

Charles Rolison and Mrs. Barbara Ferguson teach night classes Monday and Wednesday from 6 to 9.

For more information, call Mrs. Barbara White at 467-2251.

Parkinson Support Group

There is a certain magic that takes over when people who share the same problem get together to help each other. Support groups are a blessing formed by closeness and love to help take away the sting that has resulted from the thought of being alone.

Parkinson Support Group is people helping people to go on living regardless of the odds, and to make a lemonade out of the lemon that has been dealt to them.

The public is invited to all meetings, which are held the second Sunday at 2 p.m. at Garden Park Community Hospital in Gulfport. For information, call 863-2929 or 467-0307.
